Gloria Estefan dialogue with Leila Cobo, Executive Director of Content and Programming for Billboard America during a depth conversation about his new album, his show on Broadway, his multiple businesses and stay in the top of the charts. The Queen of Latin Pop, Gloria, has been rated as one of the most successful Latin artists of all time, winning acceptance in the U.S. market as the Latin. Born in Cuba and raised in Miami, Gloria has sold over 100 million albums worldwide and has won 17 Billboard Music Awards and seven Latin Grammy ® awards since its debut as lead singer of what later became the Miami Sound Machine, a group which he joined as a teenager, to meet her husband and producer now 19 time Grammy ® Award winner, Emilio Estefan, and eventually evolving into stardom as soloist and Hispanic female model to follow. Her successful solo career includes having broken the record as the female artist with the most singles in the number 1 position in the history of the Billboard Hot Latin Songs with 15 tracks, including "Today," "If We Were Lovers", "With the years I have left, "and" Hotel Nacional ". Additionally, their highly successful album "Mi Tierra" continuous mateniendo the record as the album more weeks in the top spot on the Billboard Latin Albums more than 58 weeks at the head of the list. She has had four decades of success with albums on the lists of Top 40 of the Billboard 200, specifically in the 1980, 1990, 2000 and 2010. Their most recent album of 2011, "Miss Little Havana" became their success in reaching number 16 position on the Billboard just launched. Gloria has reached 38 pop hits, including 81 Top 10 and three No. 1: "Anything For You", "Do not Wanna Lose You" and "Coming Out "of the Dark" on the Hot 100 chart.

Gloria Estefan's achievements transcend the music business and entertainment. She is a humanitarian and Gloria Estefan Foundation promotes good health, education and culture. Gloria has helped raise more than $ 40 million to the project Miami Project to Cure Paralysis (Miami Project to Cure Paralysis), creating the largest facilities and comprehensive in the world for research of the spine in the Lois Pope LIFE Center . It is also a successful writer of children's literature, with two books based on the life and adventures of Noelle, inspired and named in honor of her beloved English bulldog real life. In addition, Gloria is the first Cuban-American to become a minority shareholder NFL franchise, with interest in his hometown team, Miami Dolphins. In 2011, Estefan received the Latin Billboard Spirit of Hope by the philanthropic work done by his foundation.

"Gloria Estefan is an icon. She opened the door to crossover when the concept did not even exist and has maintained his superstar status continued breaking records on the Billboard charts until today. We are excited to confirm this exclusive interview where we talk about his new television projects, his new Broadway show based on his life, and of course, their new album which will be released in the fall," said Cobo.

Gloria Estefan accompany the Colombian superstar Carlos Vives and an important group of industry leaders who are confirmed to participate in the conference.
